

Become a Friend of the Portsmouth Athenæum

The Athenæum is a non-profit member supported organization, established in 1816 and incorporated the following year with “the purpose of promoting learning and diffusing useful knowledge.” For nearly two centuries, the Athenæum has made its resources available to scholars, genealogical researchers, and curious browsers in pursuit of knowledge. In recent years, the Athenæum has greatly expanded its public outreach. In 1986, the Joseph P. Copley Research Library opened, providing regular public hours and professional staff to maintain and make available the library’s superb collections. In 1996, the Sawtelle family generously provided the Peter Randall Gallery as space for insightful and engaging exhibitions on regional subjects. Athenæum exhibitions and lecture series are open to the public at no charge.

Friends of the Athenæum help support our efforts to benefit the community, providing outstanding exhibits on regional subjects, holding provocative lectures and educational programs, and maintaining public access to the Athenæum’s vast collection of books, manuscripts, maps, prints, photographs, and artifacts, to encourage research on scholarship in subjects of regional interest.

Benefits of becoming a Friend of the Athenæum include:

- The Athenæum’s quarterly newsletter, with up-to-date information on events and activities, as well as notice of recent acquisitions of books, special collections, and curatorial objects.
- Advance notice of lectures and programs.
- Invitation to exhibit openings in the Athenæum’s Peter Randall Gallery.
